

Changes brought for ESI 2018 awards

Date: 23/02/2017

The organizers of ESI 2018 have decided to bring back the financial awards for teams participating in ESI 2018.

Although we have committed to logistics cost to the overall winner of ESI 2017 (and 2018 as well), we have received multiple requests from participating teams to split the award for only the overall winner over a greater number of teams. The feedback from students is quite important to us as organizers & we have decided to replace the USA logistics cost for overall winner with financial awards over multiple events.

However, the financial awards will be handed out for events where we can directly quantify the performance of the teams over a level platform & gradation is not subjective. Hence, the financial awards are being given out for dynamic events.

The decision to include design event top 5 is to award the teams who make it to Design Finals of ESI 2018. Being in Design Finals is an honor for the participating teams & each team look forward to this. Also, here the teams are judged collectively by judges together at the same time without any difference in time and/or panels/bays.

There would be additional "Special Awards" given out at the competition and we also might be having some "Sponsored Awards", details of which will be released at a later stage.
